Understanding Dandruff and Its Causes

Before diving into the specifics of Neutrogena's offerings, it's essential to understand what dandruff is and what causes it. Dandruff is characterized by the shedding of dead skin cells from the scalp, which can lead to visible flakes and irritation. Common causes include:

- Dry Skin: Scalp dryness can lead to flaking, especially in winter months.
- Oily Skin: Excess oil can promote the growth of yeast on the scalp, leading to dandruff.
- Skin Conditions: Conditions like psoriasis and eczema can contribute to dandruff.
- Diet: Poor nutrition and lack of certain vitamins can influence scalp health.
- Stress: High stress levels can exacerbate skin issues, including dandruff.

Understanding these factors can help you identify the best treatment options. Neutrogena's Scalp Therapy Anti Dandruff Shampoo aims to address these concerns effectively.
