The volume's extensive coverage ensures that readers gain insight into both the stylistic innovations and thematic concerns that characterize these dynamic centuries.

Key Literary Periods and Movements Covered

The Norton anthology of English literature volume B is organized around major literary periods and movements, enabling readers to trace the evolution of literary styles and ideas. The primary periods included are the Romantic period and the Victorian era, each with distinct characteristics and contributions to English literature.

The Romantic Period

The Romantic period, spanning approximately 1798 to 1837, is characterized by a focus on individualism, emotion, nature, and imagination. The anthology highlights the works of poets and writers who challenged Enlightenment ideals and embraced new forms of expression. This era introduced themes of the sublime, the supernatural, and a deep engagement with societal and political issues.

The Victorian Era

Following the Romantics, the Victorian era (1837–1901) reflects the complexities of industrialization, social reform, and empire. Literature from this time often grapples with issues such as morality, class, gender roles, and scientific progress. The anthology includes a range of genres and authors that illustrate the diversity and depth of Victorian literature, from the novel to the dramatic monologue.

Notable Authors and Works Included

The Norton anthology of English literature volume B features an impressive roster of influential authors whose works have shaped English literary tradition. The selection balances canonical figures with important but sometimes less widely studied voices from the Romantic and Victorian periods.

- William Wordsworth – Known for pioneering Romantic poetry, emphasizing nature and human emotion.
- Samuel Taylor Coleridge – Celebrated for his imaginative lyricism and exploration of the supernatural.
- Jane Austen – Though primarily associated with the Regency era, her novels are included for their social commentary and narrative style.
- Mary Shelley – Author of Frankenstein, a seminal work blending Gothic and Romantic elements.
- Charles Dickens – A central figure of Victorian literature, known for his vivid characters and social critique.
- Elizabeth Barrett Browning – Renowned for her passionate and politically engaged poetry.

- Robert Browning – Famous for dramatic monologues and psychological insight.
