Overview of Notgrass Exploring World History

Notgrass Exploring World History is a detailed history curriculum that covers global events from the earliest civilizations through contemporary history. Developed by Notgrass Company, it offers a chronological examination that helps students build a coherent understanding of historical progression. The curriculum is known for its engaging narrative style, comprehensive coverage, and integration of primary sources and literature. It aims to provide students with an appreciation for the cultural, political, and technological developments that have influenced human history. Throughout its content, the program encourages students to analyze historical events in context, fostering critical thinking skills essential for historical study.

Historical Scope and Coverage

The curriculum spans a wide range of historical periods, including ancient civilizations such as Mesopotamia and Egypt, classical empires like Greece and Rome, medieval societies, the Renaissance, the Age of Exploration, the Industrial Revolution, and modern global conflicts. Notgrass Exploring World History provides a balanced examination of Western and non-Western histories, ensuring a global perspective. This extensive scope allows students to trace the interconnectedness of civilizations and understand the cause-and-effect relationships that have shaped world events.

Integration of a Christian Worldview

One distinctive aspect of Notgrass Exploring World History is its integration of a Christian worldview in its presentation of historical events. The curriculum discusses the influence of Christianity on global history, while also acknowledging other religions and cultures. This approach offers students an opportunity to explore history through a faith-based lens, which is particularly valued by families seeking educational content that aligns with their beliefs. The curriculum maintains academic integrity by presenting factual information alongside worldview considerations.

Curriculum Structure and Content

The structure of Notgrass Exploring World History is designed to facilitate a progressive and comprehensive learning experience. The curriculum is divided into thematic units that cover specific historical eras, with each unit containing lessons that include reading assignments, discussion questions, activities, and assessments. This format supports gradual knowledge acquisition and reinforces learning through varied instructional methods.

Lesson Components

Each lesson typically includes several key components:

- Textbook Reading: Detailed chapters that provide narrative history with engaging content.
- Primary Source Documents: Excerpts from historical texts, speeches, and writings to enhance understanding.
- Discussion Questions: Thought-provoking prompts to encourage analysis and reflection.
- Activities and Projects: Hands-on assignments such as map work, timelines, and creative projects.
